FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF
COPYRIGHT INFRINGEMENT

38. Plaintiff incorporates the allegations contained in the preceding paragraphs as if set forth at length here.

39. Defendant has, without a synchronization, or any other, license synchronized plaintiff's copyrighted recordings "First Day" and "the Slow Wait Part 2", to two advertisements.

40. Defendant, without license or authority, reproduced and distributed the Subject Advertisements.

41. It cannot be disputed plaintiff has a valid, registered copyright, for each recording, and that defendant has synchronized, reproduced, and distributed plaintiff's copyrighted recordings without a license, thus infringing plaintiff's rights under the Copyright Act.

42. Irreparable injury is presumed here as plaintiff has established a prima facie case of copyright infringement.

43. Even after defendant was put on notice of the infringement over seven months before the date before this action was filed; it elected to continue to synchronize, reproduce, distribute, and publicly perform plaintiff's copyrighted recordings.

44. The synchronization, reproduction, and/or distribution, of the copyrighted recordings was clearly intentional within the meaning of 17 U.S.C. § 504(c)(2) for the purposes of enhancing statutory damages.

45. Defendant was put on direct notice of its infringing activity, but took no action.

46. Defendant's knowledge may be inferred from their conduct as well as their reckless disregard of plaintiff's rights (rather than actual knowledge of infringement), which suffices to warrant award of the enhanced damages.

47. As a direct and proximate result of defendant's infringement, plaintiff has incurred actual damages in the form of licensing fees, and the forced association with plaintiff despite the fact that plaintiff has licensing deals with other shoe companies.

48. Plaintiff may recover its actual damages, and defendant's profit to be determined at trial. Plaintiff may also elect to recover statutory damages pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504(c)(2) for willful infringement of up to $150,000, but not less than $30,000.

49. Plaintiff also seeks its attorneys' fees and costs, as well as pre-post judgment interest.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF
VIOLATION OF DMCA OF 1998, AS AMENDED,
17 U.S.C. § 1201, et seq.

50. Plaintiff incorporates the allegations contained in the preceding paragraphs as if set forth at length here.

51. Section 1202 provides in part: (a) no person shall knowingly and with the intent to induce, enable, facilitate or conceal infringement - (1) provide copyright information that is false, or (2) distribute or import for distribution copyright management information that is false. (b) No person shall, without the authority of the copyright owner or the law - (1) intentionally remove or alter any copyright management information, [or] (3) distribute . . . works [or] copies of works . . . knowing that copyright management information has been removed or altered without authority of the copyright owner or the law, knowing, or having reasonable grounds to know, that it will induce, enable, facilitate, or conceal an infringement of any right under this title. 17 U.S.C. § 1202(a)-(b).

52. Copyright management information is defined as “information which identifies the work, the author of the work, the owner of any right in the work, or information about the terms and conditions of use of the work . . . which is attached to a copy of a work or appears in connection with communication of the work to the public.” S.Rep. No. 105-190 (1988), note 18.

53. A defendant violates the DMCA each time it wrongfully distributed a copyrighted work.

54. Defendant also misstated the terms and conditions of using each copyrighted work.

55. Defendant violated section 1202, upon information and belief, by abstracting the two recordings from YouTube thereby removing and/or altering the anti-circumvention software.

56. Defendant did the forgoing with the intent to conceal the infringements.

57. Each time defendant uploaded an advertisement it committed a violation of section 1202.

58. A “[c]omplaining party may elect to recover an award of statutory damages for each violation of section 1202 in the sum of not less than $2,500 or more than $25,000.” 17 U.S.C. § 1203(c)(3)(B).

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff respectfully prays this Court enter an order awarding plaintiff:

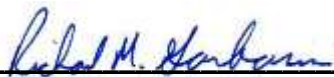

- 1) restitution of defendant’s unlawful proceeds, including defendant’s gross profits;
- 2) compensatory damages to plaintiff in an amount to be ascertained at trial;
- 3) one statutory damage award per work infringed, including but not limited to all penalties authorized by the Copyright Act (17 U.S.C. §§ 504(c)(1), and 504(c)(2)) at plaintiff’s election;
- 4) an award of statutory damages for each violation by defendant of the DMCA, 17 U.S.C. § 1202;
- 5) plaintiff’s reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs (17 U.S.C. § 505);
- 6) pre- and post-judgment interest to the extent allowable; and,
